

Golden Quill Literary Award History

Inaugurated in 2004, the award is to recognize and celebrate the literary achievement and exemplary community service. The award selection and financial gift may be based upon an author's accomplishment of writing and publishing a single book, several books, or other achievement in the literary arts.

Further:

The author must live in El Paso or Teller County, or in the close proximity thereof, have published within the three years prior to the award, and may be works of fiction, non-fiction, illustrator, or textbook author.
